1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 4-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. New claim 4 recites that the inner surfaces have spherical projections and indentations. The specification does not describe these features on the inner surfaces.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. With regard to claim 4, the claim is indefinite for the reason noted in the paragraph above. With regard to claim 3 “and” on line 2 thereof should be changed to “or”. Claim 1 remains confusing in the portion of lines 14-25 thereof. For example, see lines 17-19 of the claim. In another example, the slots 5 appear from the specification to be structurally related to the elastic consoles in that they are disposed on three sides thereof. However, because of the way the noted portion of claim 1 is drafted it appears as if the claim recites that the slots are on three sides of the lower portion instead of the slots being on three sides of the elastic consoles. Also in this portion of the claim the phrase “the root” lacks proper antecedent basis. In claim 1 line 30 the last phrase does not read properly (“can be inserted with tooth of other cases”).

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 4-11 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Byrne et al. (cited herein). Byrne appears to show most of the elements of the claims but lacks protrusions and indentations for helping to stack the cases, as required in claim 4. On the other hand, it would have been obvious in view of Byrne to provide the device disclosed therein with the missing features, for the purpose of making the device more convenient to use.

7. Claims 1-3 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action. It is noted that in response to a similar indication of allowable subject matter made previously, applicant submitted claims for examination that were broader than those originally examined and indicated as being allowable over the prior art. For example only, and with regard to claim 1, details of the hinge between the lower and upper portions have now been omitted. However, claim 1 was considered again and remains allowable in this examiners opinion. On the other hand, applicant is advised that submitting a claim that is broader in scope than claim 1 (including all of the elements currently in the claim) in response to this office action, may lead to further delay in a patent issuing for the subject application.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
